Product Description

This statue is made out of the Sandstone which is highly absorbent. Because of the hardness of individual grains, uniformity of grain size and friability of their structure, some types of sandstone are excellent materials to make grindstone, for sharpening blades and other implements. Here the apsara or the dancer is depicted attractively playing a curved shehnai, with mesmerising expressions covering her face and standing with beautiful bhangi. Apsaras are beautiful, supernatural female beings. They are youthful and elegant, and superb in the art of dancing. So bring home this pre-possessing statuette to enhance the beauty of the house or office.

Product Description

Anantashayi Vishnu, also known as Anantashayana Vishnu this is a very common pose of Indian mythology. Here lord Vishnu is depicted sleeping on the Snake Adisehsa Naga who is the coiled Cosmic energy in the Solar Plexus, in the The Ksheera Saagara which is a representation of the Milky way Galaxy. Beneath him sits his wife goddess Lakshmi massaging his leg. Lord Vishnu does not sleep. His sleep is called Yoga Nidra (Sleeping posture in Yoga or being aware while sleeping. The name anantashayana comes from “ananta”, which means without end which depicts the thousand headed snake over which lord Vishnu is reclining. From his navel emerges Brahma, the creator God, seated on a lotus. His weapons, including the mace and the conch shell, lie relaxed in his hands. This statue clearly depicts that lord Vishnu sleeps in between the yugas, or cycles of time, on the cosmic ocean which lies outside space and time. So bring home this statuette to experience peace in your surroundings.
