The supreme shakti: Maa Durga

- Goddess Durga was born as a beautiful and fully formed adult, with ten arms carrying weapons in each arm, riding on a lion so that she could slay a demon named Mahishashura.

- An Asura, who was granted immortality by Lord Bramha, except getting killed only by a female.
- Hearing that no one could beat him he started to attack all the Trilok, this is when the gods decided to create feminine energy by combining them into Durga to defeat Mahishasura.
- This fight went for ten days to defeat Mahishashura, celebrated as "Vijayadashami" the win over darkness.

How to incorporate stone sculptures in your interior design:

- The southwest zone is the most auspicious zone to place the Durga idol at home/office as per Vaastu.
- You don't need a massive space to display the lustrous sculpt, display it on the windowed cabinet, accent cabinet will be very eye-catching.
- Transform your bookshelves and floating shelves for storing the magnificent art.
- The gallery/foyer and hallways will always gain the visitor's attention, place the artsy sculpt on a high table in these areas and wait for the compliments.
- Be it a birthday/House warming or any special life event of your loved one this idol is proved auspicious to gift.
