- The motherly figure is beautifully engraved with jewelry all over her body, brilliantly showcased by the deft hands of the carver.

The personification of courage and victory:

- "Du" means difficult and "Ga" means to cross over, therefor Durga means a fort difficult to crossover. Symbolizing her as a fort that is impossible to traverse to reach the empire.

- The invincibility made him so empowered that he set out to vanquish all three worlds. To which all Devatas plead to the trinity to save them from his havoc.
- This leads to the emergence of the ultimate powerful Goddess Durga, who emerged by combining the forces of Lord Bramha, Vishnu, Mahesh, and other gods.
