Product Description

Radha Krishna two names which are always taken together. A bright example of pure hearted love without any selfish intentions. This idol symbolises the love amidst Radha and Krishna which have made both of them unforgettable in the chapters of Indian mythology. Here Radha Krishna are depicted standing next to each other, with flute in hands of Krishna and an earthen pot in hand of Radha, which reminds us of the same old days scenario when Radha used to go for fetching water from Yamuna river and Krishna used to follow her and impress her with his enchanting flute tune. So relive the moment of love and romance by fetching this statue to beautify your house or office premises to feel loved.
